

UNIVERSITY TO INAUGURATE ITS NEW PRESIDENT

Elaborate Ceremonies to Mark Induction of L. D. Coffman Head of Minnesota U.

Minneapolis, Minn. May 11.—A holiday air pervaded the campus of the University of Minnesota as final arrangements were being completed today for the inauguration of Lorin D. Coffman as president of the university, on Friday morning. The inauguration ceremonies, which will cover a period of three days, beginning tomorrow with Cap and Gown day and continuing until Saturday noon.

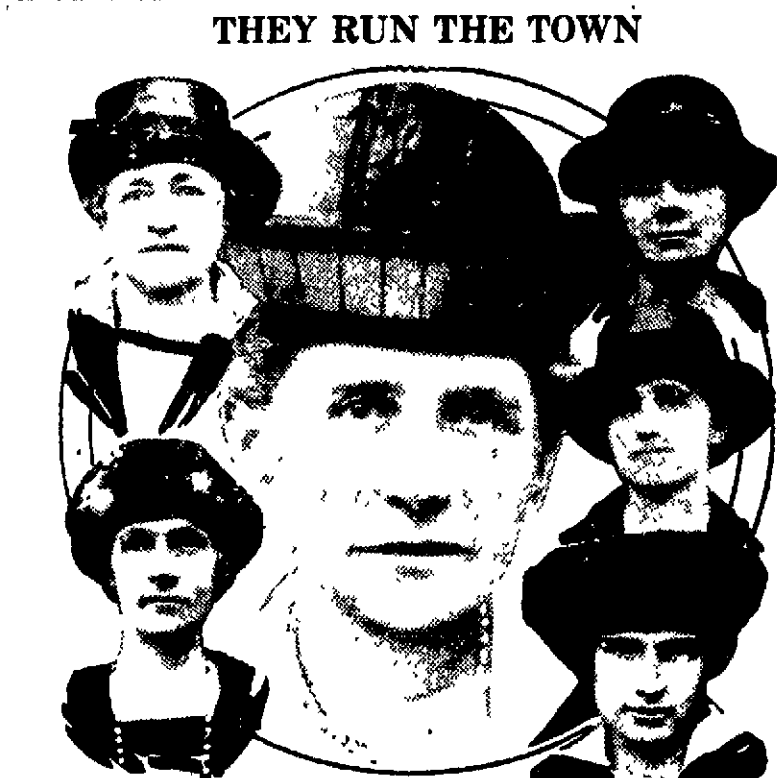

Revising a custom not in vogue ten years ago, students at the university will have the opportunity of observing the inauguration of their president for the first time since 1911 when Dr. George D. Vincent was formally inaugurated as head of the institution. Due to this country being at arms against Germany in 1917 when the assumption of Dr. Marion LeRoy Burton to the presidency took place, all social formalities connected with the event were dispensed with.

Representatives of universities from all over the world, most of them from this country, however, were arriving today and a number of others are expected tomorrow and Friday. The attendance will include presidents of many of the prominent educational institutions in this country and abroad, representatives of the National Educational association and similar organizations, regents of the Minnesota university, members of the state legislature, state officials and a number of city and county heads from the entire state.

There is Strength in Every Tablet

One dose often helps commence to enrich your blood and revitalize your worn-out exhausted nervous system. Nuxated Iron is organic iron, like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach. It is so prepared that it will not injure the stomach, it is ready for almost immediate absorption and assimilation by the blood while some physicians claim metallic iron which people usually take is not absorbed at all. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron—three times a day, after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and you will be amazed. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. *All druggists.

William Watts Folwell, first president of the institution from the time it was organized in 1869 until 1884, will open the inaugural session with an address Friday morning. Dr. Cyrus Northrop, who succeeded Dr. Folwell in 1884 and continued in office until 1911, when Dr. George Vincent assumed the helm, will follow also with an address.

The actual presentation of Dr. Coffman then will be made by Fred B. Snyder, president of the University Board of Regents, after which President Coffman will deliver his inaugural address. Although Dr. Vincent will be present at the exercises, he will not speak until Friday night at the auditorium of the university farm in St. Paul.

BOLSHEVIKS DON'T PERMIT SUSPECTS CHOICE OF HOME

Riga, May 11.—Choice of a home is not permitted in the land of the Bolsheviks, according to persons reaching here from Russia. Everything belongs to the government which assigns living quarters.

Special barracks have been assigned to persons from America as Soviet authorities consider them unreliable rebels that must be kept apart from others. Everybody knows these "Americans" by their sad faces and dismal silence. They do not answer if spoken to in Russian, but their faces brighten if some one appears who knows English, and especially the American vernacular. "Don't you speak English?" is their first question, followed quickly by the inevitable second: "Is there any way to get back to America?" But there is no way out, for Russia is locked from within.

WANT VOICE IN CONTROL OF CLOSED BANKS

Minot, N. D., May 11.—A demand that the state banks of North Dakota, which, under the depositors' guarantee fund law assume the liability of closed banks, should have some hand in determining how these closed institutions should be managed and their affairs liquidated, was voiced by A. E. Seveland, cashier of the Merchants State bank of Velva and president of the northwestern district of the North Dakota Bankers' association, in his address to the annual convention of the district association which opened in Minot this afternoon, with more than 100 banks in the northwestern part of North Dakota represented.

"At the present time," he declared, "there are between 30 and 40 banks closed in North Dakota and practically all of them are state banks and come under the guarantee fund law. It is reasonable to assume that in each bank unable to reopen for business, there will be a loss. We, who are members of the guarantee fund, which means all state banks, have assumed this liability. We have virtually stepped into the shoes of the stockholders of these banks and have assumed their responsibilities but we have nothing to do or nothing to say about receiverships or management or liquidation of these defunct banks, and still we are sponsors and guarantors."

"It would appear that we should be permitted to investigate these matters and also devise and apply our own methods in handling this in conjunction with the banking board. It is also very probable that directors and officers of some of these defunct banks have been unnecessarily delinquent and negligent in their duties, thereby making themselves liable."

THE U. S. ROYAL CORD

A famous tire—and a famous tread. Acknowledged among motorists and dealers alike as the world's foremost example of Cord tire building. Always delivering the same repeated economy, tire after tire, and season after season.

The stripe around the sidewall is registered as a trade-mark in the U. S. Patent Office.

How you can measure tire value in 1921

OFTEN it's surprising the number of different tire views that come out in a chance talk at the curb or in the leisure of a friend's garage.

Almost every day you come across the man human enough to believe he can outguess the cut-price tag on "job-lots," "discontinued lines" and "surplus stocks."

His opposite is the hardpan car owner who sticks year in and year out to a standard brand as the only rational economy.

Many will remember the scarcity of U. S. Tires last year.

A hardship at the time, but a benefit now. There are no U. S. Tires to be worked off—no accumulations—no forced selling of any U. S. brand—no shipping of tires from one part of the country to another to "find a market."

There are 92 U. S. Factory Branches. Each one gets its share of U. S. Tires. There is a broad, constant, even distribution of U. S. Tires always going on from these Branches to the dealer.

Buy a U. S. Tire anywhere—in a community of 500 people or even less—and you get a fresh, live tire of current production—with all the original service and mileage the factory put into it.

The owner of a medium or light-weight car stands on equal ground with every other car owner.

Any United States Tire is a universal full money's worth—backed up with a leadership policy of equal quality, buying convenience and price for everybody.

THE MASTER REFRIGERATOR

Ordinary products never come from a master's workshop. Once the master painter, poet, musician or sculptor wins his reputation, he strives continuously to live up to it.

Just so the master builders of the Master refrigerator, The Herrick, have guarded against lowering their quality standards.

They have sacrificed none of the twenty-seven unusual features that make the Herrick most desirable. Some of these features, of course, have been copied by other makers. Some are patented and can't be copied. But no imitation of the Herrick has ever been made equal to this masterpiece.

To profit by ALL these improvements INSIST on getting the Herrick.

DESCRIBES HOW BERGDOLL GOT AWAY FROM HIM

Soldier Guard Declared He Had Not Heard of Buried Treasure

SLACKER GIVEN UNIFORM

Washington, May 12.—In giving a first hand account of the escape of Grover C. Bergdoll, the Philadelphia dodger, Sergeant John O'Hare, who was in command of the escort which started out with Bergdoll from Governor's Island for the mountains of Maryland, told the house investigating committee that he had never heard a word about the buried pot of gold until long after the prisoner had fled.

O'Hare was positive in the assertion that when he started out for the mountains the only instructions he received from Colonel John E. Hunt, his superior officer, was to proceed with the prisoner to Hagerstown, Md., get some money from a bank, take it to another bank at Philadelphia, and return to the barracks.

There were no written orders except to stop off at North Philadelphia, meet the late D. Clarence Gihoney, Bergdoll's lawyer, and thereafter be guided by what Gihoney said, that the party halted at Philadelphia, went for a long automobile ride, with Bergdoll at the wheel, visited a burlesque show and stopped at the Bergdoll home, from which the prisoner escaped.

The sergeant told how Bergdoll who had evaded the draft for a couple of years, was sent from the island in the full uniform of an enlisted man, with a hat cord indicating that he belonged to the infantry branch of the service.

Step by step he told of the various moves, up to the moment when Bergdoll walked into a bath room to answer the telephone. He was never seen after that and to this day, the sergeant said he does not know how he got out. Except for that single moment, he declared, the prisoner was never out of his sight.

No amount of cross-examination could budge the witness from his statement that he was in entire ignorance of any plan to go out and dig up the buried gold.

Injuries sustained when a horse kicked him proved fatal to Andrew Weikum, 35 years old, a farmer living near Braddock, N. D. He died in a local hospital at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The injury was between the ankle and knee. The limb was badly crushed by the force of the blow from the horse's hoof. When brought to the hospital two days ago infection had already set in and it was impossible to arrest the blood poisoning.

Mr. Weikum leaves a wife and three children. All other relatives live in Russia.

The body will be shipped to Brad-dock tomorrow for burial.

During the same period, he added, gross revenues of carriers increased less than 64 per cent.

WHETHER you are going to have two, three or a dozen Frocks this Summer you will enjoy choosing them all right now while every mode is new, fresh and unhandled. Of course, you may not wish to don them immediately but you will be mighty gratified that you made your selections of pretty tubable Frocks bright and early, when those who delayed will be searching for appropriate modes after the first heat wave has made itself felt.

Thin Frocks summery in style, fabric and colorings—as delightful in every way as the most fastidious tastes could desire—are enough of an excuse, if indeed one is needed, for getting the Summer wardrobe in readiness at once. And with prices way down, lower than they have been for years on the self-same qualities, every woman will feel that there is really no reason why she shouldn't hearken to her present impulse to buy and to buy in quantities.

Toe Nail Turns Out Itself if You Toughen Skin

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night. "Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

RYE ACREAGE DROPS ONE-THIRD SAYS FEDERAL CROP REPORT FOR NORTH DAKOTA; HAY OUTLOOK GOOD

Grand Forks, N. D., May 12.—The rye acreage in North Dakota is one-third less than a year ago, according to the monthly report of A. J. Surratt, state statistician for the United States Bureau of Crop Estimates, made public here today. The condition of rye, hay and pastures is about the average and the progress of plowing and planting on May 1 was near the high record mark, the report said. Livestock wintered well and the season's losses were extremely light.

The slump in the rye acreage is largely due to the grasshopper menace, the report said. The acreage remaining for harvest is estimated at 616,000 acres compared to 934,999 last year and 1,345,000 acres in 1919.

Reports on the hay crop outlook are mostly favorable from over the state and the same applies to pastures, but good rains are needed quite generally to assure the continuance of the present satisfactory start.

FEDERAL JUDGE SELECTION NOW BEING DEBATED

Political Leaders in State Are Deeply Concern Over New Appointment

MANY ARE MENTIONED

Need for Additional Judges is Held Urgent Through Illness of Judge Amidon

The appointment of a new federal judge for the district of North Dakota is arousing great interest in North Dakota among men interested in politics and among the lawyers.

The bill introduced by Senator McCumber, designed to permit appointment of a federal judge to sit in North Dakota as a companion judge to Judge Amidon until the latter retires, is expected to become a law soon. There is little doubt of its passage and the certainty of it becoming a law has caused talk to be centered upon the judgeship.

Andrew Miller, of Miller, Zuger & Tillotson, of Bismarck, is being urged for the position. Yesterday a number of his friends in Bismarck here signed an endorsement of him, to be transmitted to Senator McCumber. Mr. Miller is understood to be in Washington now.

Ladd's Choice

Senator Ladd has announced he will recommend Seth Richardson, of Fargo, defeated in the primary and at the election as candidate for supreme court judge by Judge Christianson. While Senator Ladd, being junior senator, is not expected to have the power to distribute much patronage in North Dakota. Nonpartisans are backing up his contention in favor of Richardson.

A third man who is understood not to be a candidate in any sense of the word but whose friends have urged his name is Judge A. M. Christianson, of the supreme court. Judge Christianson entered on his second six-year term on the supreme bench of the state last January and some of his friends are both to see him suggested for a position which would transfer his energies from the supreme bench to a federal position, while other friends say he is the best qualified of all suggested.

Several others have been mentioned, among them former District Judge Crawford, of Dickinson, who became widely known as a jurist while on the district bench. Judge W. L. Nussle, of Bismarck has been mentioned in the talk of men for the place. Judge E. B. Goss and Francis Murphy, of Minot, also are mentioned. Judge Goss' friends are said to have proposed his name when the decision was reached by McCumber to introduce the bill providing for another place.

Few lawyers in the eastern part of the state have been talked of as candidates for the position, excepting Richardson.

Is Urgent Need

There is held to be an urgent need for the appointment of a federal judge for North Dakota, because of the illness of Judge Amidon. It is said there is a man in jail at Fargo who has been waiting for trial in federal court for several months, and the court business has been piling up. Federal Judge Woodrugh, of Omaha, disposed of much business last year, when he was temporarily transferred from his own district.

The position of federal judge is a life appointment, with retirement pay provided.

THE INSIDE NEWS AT WASHINGTON

That is a question, administration heads hold, which must be ironed out by capital and labor themselves, without influence from the government. CAPT. COOPER JUST CAN'T BE KILLED ABOUT THIS TIME O' YEAR

By Newspaper Enterprise.

Warsaw, May 12.—Captain Merlan C. Cooper, commander of the Kosciuszko squadron, Poland's famous flying corps, has just learned the war is over.

He rejoined his command here after escaping from a Bolshevik prison camp near Moscow.

All Warsaw is at the feet of the American ace who was twice shot down from the clouds, twice endured the squalor of prison camps, twice was reported dead.

His comrades gathered about him and asked for an account of his experiences.

"Shucks," he answered, "I just heard a few days ago the war is over. If there isn't any more work to be done I might as well have stayed in prison."

On With the Beard!

While in prison he was without benefit of razor, so had to wear a flowing beard—just like the Bolsheviks.

"I never felt so good in my life as I did when I got rid of that splash," he said. "A man has to hate himself to wear that kind of facial mask. Guess that's the reason the Bolsheviks wear 'em."

The official organ of the aviation corps hailed him as "perhaps the greatest hero of the war" at the close of the World War.

Record of his exploits is gained only from records and accounts of comrades, for Captain Cooper refuses to talk about himself.

Close to Death.

He piloted a bombing plane over Alsace, Sept. 25, 1918, and was engaged in fight by the Hun's flying circus. He and Lieutenant E. C. Leonard put two or three German bombers out of commission.

Leonard was shot through the shoulder. Another bullet set the petrol tank afire. Cooper started to volunteer. The fire burned his hands.

Cooper, thinking Leonard was dead loosened his life belt to leap to a more merciful death than burning. Seeing Leonard writhe in pain and knowing he still lived, he grasped the controls between his leather-covered elbows.

The plane landed in a forest. While Cooper was ministering to Leonard they were captured by Germans.

Armistice negotiations saved him from the firing squad.

Captain Cooper served with the Hoover Relief Commission in Poland. Then with other American aviators who sympathized with the Poles' fight against the Bolsheviks, he organized the Kosciuszko squadron.

He was repeatedly cited for bravery. General Pilsudski decorated him.

Price on Life.

Rewards for his capture were offered by Lenin and Trotsky. He was shot down and taken prisoner, but gave an assumed name.

He again faced starvation and freezing in a prison camp. Comrades and relatives knew nothing of his fate.

at night and posed as German refugees. He reached Riga and cabled his father at Jacksonville, Fla., that he was safe. Then he proceeded to Warsaw to be mustered out of service. (Copyright, 1921, by N. E. A.)

MISSIONARY IS GIVING LIFE TO AID OF LEPERS

Heroic Story of Sacrifice of Mary Reed in Indian Village is Told

London, May 12.—A story of heroic self-sacrifice and devotion has reached England from the leper village of Chandag, India, where Mary Reed, a solitary white woman missionary, is giving her life to ministry to the sufferings of her fellow lepers.

News of her isolated life was brought back by Mr. Oldrieve, organizing secretary of the Mission to Lepers, who has just returned from a 70,000-mile journey visiting all the leper colonies in India.

Thirty years ago Miss Reed went into this desolate spot in the Himalayas, 6,000 feet above the sea level, offering herself to the leper cause. Although a victim of the malady, she is still able to carry on her spiritual work among these afflicted like herself.

Miss Reed seldom sees white people for her station is 80 miles from the nearest railway line. There are 46 women lepers in the community and 19 men in the men's refuge a short distance away.

According to Mr. Oldrieve, there are 200,000 lepers in India. "At present," he declared, "it is not right to say that any cure for leprosy has been found."

Devils Lake, N. D., May 12.—The executive committee of the North Dakota department of the American Legion will meet at Devils Lake, May 10 to help arrange for the first state convention of auxiliaries to Legion posts of the state, to be held here May 12. YOUNG GIRLS NEED CARE

Mothers! Watch Your Daughters' Health Health Is Happiness

From the time a girl reaches the age of twelve until womanhood is established she needs all the care the thoughtful mother can give.

The condition that the girl is then passing through is so critical and may have such far-reaching effects upon her future happiness and health that it is almost criminal for a mother, or guardian to withhold counsel or advice.

Many a woman has suffered years of prolonged pain and misery through having been the victim of thoughtlessness or ignorance on the part of those who should have guided her through the dangers and difficulties that beset this period.

Mothers should teach their girls what danger comes from standing around with cold or wet feet, from lifting heavy articles, and from overworking. Do not let her overstudy. If she complains of headache, pains in the back and lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter, make a life easier for her. She needs thoughtful care for a few years.

In all such cases Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be given as it is especially adapted for such conditions. It contains nothing that can injure and can be taken in perfect safety.

Read how Mrs. Elcher helped her daughter. She says: "At the age of sixteen my daughter was having trouble every month. She had pains across her back and in her sides. Every month her back would pain her so she could not do her work and would have to lie down. My married daughter recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I read the books which were left at my door. She took it faithfully and is now regular and has no pain. We recommend the Vegetable Compound and give you permission to publish this letter in your little books and in the newspapers."—Mrs. KATIE ELCHER, 4084 N. Fairhill St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Mrs. Williams will profit by her own experience. She says: "When I was thirteen years old I had sick spells each month and as I was very backward I would bear the pain and my mother knew nothing about it. I read in the daily paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took my own spending money and bought a bottle. It helped me so much that I took it regularly after that until I had taken two bottles and I did not have any more pain or backache and have been a healthy, strong woman. I am now 30 years old and have a little girl of my own, and when she gets old enough I shall give her none other than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. C. E. WILLIAMS, 2437 W. Toronto St., Philadelphia, Pa.

For almost fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been relieving women, young and old, of ailments peculiar to their sex. Ask your neighbor about it, for in every neighborhood there are women who know of its merits.

Thousands of letters similar to the above are in the files of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., and for years such letters have been published. Surely it is worth your while to make a fair trial of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

PRETTY SHOWER FOR JUNE BRIDE

One of the charming little affairs for Miss Anne Atkinson, a bride of June, was a souvenir shower arranged by Mrs. C. L. Young at her home on Avenue B, on Wednesday afternoon. The hours were from three to five thirty, when about eighteen neighbors and friends were bidden to spend the afternoon in the fascinating work of putting finishing touches on numerous articles of the trousseau. Toward the close of the afternoon lunch was served on small tables in the dining room and sun parlor. Placed on the bride's table was a white basket tied with pink tulle, containing packages which the honor guest was permitted to open during the lunch. Many lovely gifts were discovered. The decoration scheme was in pale pink, carnations and roses adding pretty color notes in the cozy home of the hostess.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION
The district convention of W. C. T. U. will be held in Bismarck May 12 and 13, meetings to be held in the Community room of the city library. On the evening of the 12th a "Mothers and Daughters" supper will be given at the basement rooms of the Baptist church on Fourth street, to which all mothers and daughters interested in the uplift of the city are most cordially invited. Following the supper, an evening program will be rendered in the main auditorium of the church, when Mrs. Margaret Forbes Clifford, state superintendent of the Young People's Temperance Union will speak. She will also make a short address at the dinner. Mrs. Amy Spaulding, of Chicago, a specialist in the very important field of Americanization, will also speak during the evening meeting. Mrs. N. Buck, field supervisor, from Jamestown, will be here. These noted workers, together with many local people, will be on the program for the two-day convention, and it is hoped that goodly numbers may turn out to hear the messages brought by those earnest workers.

Mrs. A. W. Carlson and Mrs. McCarter are on the reception committee. Mrs. Finwall and Mrs. Ralph Penner are the entertainment committee.

SONG RECITAL FRIDAY EVENING
From the names appearing on the program for the song recital of Mrs. Florence Scheffer's class in vocal training, it is evident that a delightful program is in preparation. Mrs. Arthur Bauer, Mrs. John Graham, Miss Elsie Bauer, Miss Effie Campbell, Miss Eleanor Gustavson, Miss Violet Thrams, Mrs. W. J. Targart, and Mr. Rex Berndt will appear, with Mrs. Henry Doerr as accompanist. Mrs. Scheffer will welcome all friends of the class members and others who are interested in vocal music. Because space is limited in the Parish house of the Episcopal church, the director is unable to issue a general invitation, but hopes that the music loving people may feel free to come and enjoy the program.

FORTNIGHTLY LUNCHEON
The annual luncheon tendered the Fortnightly club was held at the home of Mrs. F. L. Conklin on Avenue A. Jonquil and Marguerite daisies formed an effective decoration and a delicious one-o'clock luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by club members. During the afternoon a unique and humorous program was effected by the resourceful program committee and one of the happiest and most successful of the Fortnightly's social affairs is reported.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
 (Established 1878)

NO LOCAL APPLICATION

Editorially yesterday The Tribune had a plea for better working conditions for nurses as part of Hospital Day which is being celebrated over the nation today. This comment had no local application but merely lit at conditions that are prevalent in many institutions of the nation.

The hospitals of Bismarck are a shining exception to the indictment. Nurses are not employed for excessive hours. State laws are strictly complied with and the hospitals are efficiently operated and rank high among those of the nation.

There is a demand in many centers for a fairer deal for the trained nurse—a relief from mental tasks and shorter hours, but such is not the case locally where complete satisfaction exists among those in training.

Bismarck should enter heartily into the spirit of Hospital Day. The hospitals held open house today, but on every day visitors are welcome and citizens of Bismarck might advantageously acquaint themselves with the great work being accomplished in Bismarck in contrast with what obtains in other less favored centers.

The local hospitals cannot be commended too highly for the service they give this great territory and they are among the greatest of our community assets.

All credit to the sacrificing officers and nurses who are administering so efficiently to the needs of the Slope district.

Let Hospital Day be a regular day of tribute to those who administer to the sick.

USE YOUR HEAD

Ninety per cent of all accidents occur in public highways. Auto fatalities have grown from nine per million population to 100 in 1919, and an estimate of 110 for each million inhabitants in 1920. Which means one death every thirty-one minutes of the sixteen allotted waking hours.

These are statistics on the United States, from C. M. Talbert, chairman of the public safety section of the National Safety Council.

And what's the answer? Carelessness comes about as near as anything.

If pedestrians will watch their step a bit closer and machine drivers will watch their drive closer, America can cut down this annual carnage and alarmingly high death rate.

Wireless messages say Harding caught eleven fish off Florida. More than enough for a cabinet.

NOT MAN'S EXCLUSIVE FAULT

Man is the imperfect animal, right enough, yet his fair mate has a few faults of her own and some are hers that mostly are laid at the door of her rough, brutal opposite.

There's the business of street staring. It is alleged the peculiar crime of man that he gazes with rapt attention each time a pretty girl trips by him on the street.

But test it for yourself. Who does the most "looking" on the street when a startling gown or hose of amazing fineness passes by? Men? Nay, nay! Women!

They may say "eat" and they probably will, but, anyhow, they'll have a minute description of that gown or those stockings to retail when two or more meet and form a discussion club.

Walk down the street with any woman of your choice and watch her observation of each woman who comes by.

The states which are to have more congressmen are fortunate in having office-seekers enough to satisfy the increased demand.

"WASH" FOREHAND, HERO

Any time you think you have a real bunch of troubles, just compare your lot with that of "Wash" Forehand, of Texline, Texas.

Here is what "Wash" did what he had to do. He mothered a family of six little children.

He cultivated and raised a big crop on 250 acres, by himself.

He canned 650 quarts of fruit and vegetables.

He put up lard, butter, ham, bacon and sausages.

He made his own supply of soap.

He nursed three of his children thru a nearly fatal illness.

All these deeds, Forehand did single-handed. It took 100 per cent American pluck—and "Wash" had it.

Wash is a blacksmith by trade. He moved into Texas two years ago and bought a farm. Just after locating on it, his wife died, leaving him the care of six children. The youngest was a tiny baby daughter, 16 days old. The oldest was a boy of 11. The baby weighed less than three pounds. Neighbor women said it couldn't live.

But "Wash" was determined that it should live—and it did! The daughter is now a rosy-cheeked child of two years.

Forehand had no assistance during the two years, except for a few weeks when he employed a housekeeper. The rest of the time he was farmer, farm hand, cook and teacher. Last summer two of his children had typhoid. He nursed them through.

All this time, farming 250 acres, unaided. The War and Navy Departments alone award medals. But the Department of Agriculture ought to give a distinguished service cross and the Department of Labor a citation for bravery to "Wash" Forehand.

There are plenty of others like "Wash" Forehand—plenty of unsung, unmedaled heroes of peace. Some are men. Some are women. Patiently they do their full duty—100 per cent Americans, the backbone of our republic.

While Jess Willard plans his "come-back," Jack Johnson is thinking of a "come-out."

California reports an overproduction of prunes. Many another state has too many prunes.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

JUDGESHIP GOSSIP

The movement for the appointment of an assistant federal judge for the district of North Dakota is being discussed by lawyers and politicians throughout the state, each viewing the subject from his own angle. The reason advanced for the creation of the office of assistant judge is that the present incumbent, Judge Amidon, is somewhat old and finds the labor of the office too much for his strength. It will not be long before he has reached the period of retirement, and at that time the expectation is that the assistant judge will become the presiding judge of the district, presumably performing the duties of the office without assistance. Another theory advanced is that the motive behind the move for the creation of an assistant judgeship is purely political, and that there being no vacancy of that nature in this state to be filled at present, it was desired to create one in order to find place for some more or less deserving politician.

Gossip has been busy with the names of several men who are supposed to have some claim on this office from one standpoint or another. There is a strong suspicion that an effort will be made to fill the office by appointing some political understrapper as a reward for his services, and in expectation that he will continue to be serviceable after he has been appointed. It has been asserted that there is a well defined and compact little political organization existing for this purpose. Such things have been known before and history sometimes repeats itself.

Those who can divest themselves for the moment of political bias and personal self interest in the matter will admit that the position of United States judge is one which should be filled only by the selection of a man of long and successful experience, unquestioned capability, undoubted integrity, and the very highest type of personal character. Unless we have a judge whom we can respect, we cannot hold the right attitude toward the courts in general and toward our government itself. The judge should be, in a sense, the embodiment, at least the representative, of the things for which our government stands. It is unpardonable on the part of any man in public life to contribute to any movement which will tend to lower the ideals which belong to our courts.

Men of the required type are not very numerous, yet in North Dakota there are enough of them so that there need be no particular difficulty in finding a suitable man, one who will command the respect and confidence alike of the public and of the lawyers who must practise before him. If such a man could be found only in one party, he should be appointed; no matter what his party. If the right sort of man can be found in the political party which happens for the time being to be dominant in the affairs of the United States it is to be expected that the choice will be made from that party.

There are Republican lawyers in North Dakota who will measure up to the requirements, and it is from among these therefore that the selection should be made. In the making of this choice, there should be complete co-operation among those who may fairly be said to represent the party. The appointment must be confirmed by the senate and in making the selection, consideration should be given to the wishes not only of the North Dakota natives, but of the state's representatives in congress. The political organization in the state is headed by the national committeeman, and it is this party officer through whom, ordinarily, recommendations for such appointments come. It is to be taken for granted that no appointment will be made in this case which does not meet with the approval of the national committeeman from North Dakota, and in reaching his decision this official will naturally confer with representative men within the party throughout the state. An appointment made on this basis will be a creditable and satisfactory one; made on any other basis, it is certain to be unsatisfactory and quite likely not to be creditable.—Grand Forks Herald.

THE OPEN SEASON FOR POLITICAL ECONOMISTS

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

"Say, Mrs. Ostreich, is my ear blushing?"
 Now then, Zippy Zebra, who lived way off in the Land-That-Was-Fab-the-Away-Of-Away, was kicking up his heels and cutting around in a carefree manner at the very minute he was being talked about.

On one side of him was Mr. Ostreich and on the other was Mrs. Ostreich. Suddenly Zippy stopped with a worried look and began fapping his right ear.

"Say, Mrs. Ostreich, is my ear blushing?" he asked anxiously.
 Mrs. Ostreich stopped eating stones and squinted sideways. "Mercy me on us! How can I tell when it's as striped as an awning? What are you asking for?"

"It's burning hot," Zippy explained, "and they used to say in the circus that when your ear burned like a hot coal somebody was saying something about you. My ear is as hot as a whole kitchen stove, so I feel sure that my name must be being mentioned somewhere. Now whatta you s'pose?"

"Oh, shucks!" answered Mrs. Ostreich disgustedly. "Don't be so ridiculous!"
 Mr. Ostreich snorted, at least he made as nearly that kind of a noise as a bird can, and he said, "My dear, your English is shocking. You don't mean suspicious, you mean superstitious, and anyway it's very silly."

"That's what I was trying to tell him," answered Mrs. Ostreich, "and I think my word sounds quite as well as yours. Do tell us, Zippy, won't you, why you left the circus?"
 "The gnomes untied my rope and I bolted," nodded Zippy. "When I got out of my tent, you couldn't see me going for dust. I simply beat it."

"My, my!" said Mrs. Ostreich. "Talking about grammar, I think it is time you were getting among refined folks and learning to speak something besides slang."

 I have just received "William Madness" preparatory to presentation at my theatre for indefinite run. Mr. Zukor, I was simply overwhelmed by the gorgeousness and magnificent scenery of this creation of William DeMille. The photography astounded me. In settings I have never seen any production carried to such minute detail and the interpretation of the players in their particular characters is perfect. There has been nothing produced on the screen to equal this masterpiece and truly this is something to think about.

THE LEGION BODY OF FRANCE

Ex-Patriated Former Service Men Remains Abroad and Serves in Important Capacity.

When the last of the American expeditionary forces left France, a considerable number of ex-service men remained in that country as representatives of American firms and in various other positions. Among this group was Col. Francis E. Drake, commander of the department of France, American Legion.

The ex-patriated former service men found that there were mutual ties binding them together and the result was the formation of the Legion's department of France. Among the achievements of this detached body of Legionnaires are: The direction of the decoration of graves of American soldiers on the battlefields and in the cemeteries of France on Memorial day; aid to stranded veterans in France; the raising of a fund to defend the American sergeants who attempted to capture Bergdoll, the arch slacker, on German soil and co-operation with the French government in furthering memorial plans of the American Legion.

Colonel Drake has returned to France after a visit to America, during which he effected arrangements for the decoration of all soldiers' graves on Memorial day, 1921.

The Legion commander attracted national attention when his investigation of the alleged "Rhine Horror" showed that there was no ground for the assertion of pro-Germans that French negro troops are participating in outrages upon German women in the Rhinish provinces.

AMERICANISM BILLS GET O. K.

Three Measures Written by the American Legion Become Laws in Oklahoma, June 25.

Three Americanism bills written by the American Legion and introduced in the Oklahoma state legislature at the request of that organization, have been passed by the state lawmaking body, signed by Governor Robertson and will become laws on June 25.

House bill No. 383 provides that the American flag shall be displayed at all times in every school room in the state—public, private and denominational—and that pupils shall be taught proper respect and reverence for it by the state school superintendent. A penalty is provided for violation.

American history and civil government are made compulsory subjects for study in all schools of the state under house bill No. 384.

High schools, colleges, universities and normal schools must require at least one full year's work in American history and civics of each student graduated.

In the future, each teacher who is granted a certificate to teach in Oklahoma must subscribe to an oath of allegiance to the constitution of the United States and of the State of Oklahoma under the terms of house bill No. 380. Teachers found guilty of public statements against the flag or country shall have their certificates revoked.

The bills have been widely praised in the Oklahoma press and have been made a part of the national Americanism program of the American Legion.

DOINGS OF THE DUFFS

HELEN LAYS DOWN THE LAW

BY ALLMAN

MURDER CHARGE TO BE MADE IN SHOOTING CASE

trance of a bullet is usually smaller and more clear-cut than the point of exit, which is larger and more jagged. In this case the bullet apparently just grazed the bone and passed through only the soft tissues of the arm.

Two Bullets Entered Back.
Dr. Wood testified that two bullets had entered the back in a slanting direction the points of entrance being about two and one-half inches from the center line of the back and about five or six inches apart. The upper wound was apparently caused by a bullet which struck Johnson about on a level with the center of his shoulder and passed through the body causing a spot near the right nipple. The bullet did not pass completely through the body, but was removed by Dr. Wood, as was also the bullet which struck lower down. The second bullet, according to the doctor's testimony struck in a more slanting direction than the one which struck higher up and was removed from the left side. The skin was not broken on the front of the body, but there were evidences of bruises or blood clots under the skin and small incisions revealed the presence of the bullets.

The witness identified the bullets which he had removed from Johnson's body and these were later said by witnesses to have been fired from a thirty-eight calibre gun. Questioned as to how he recognized the bullets, Dr. Wood said he took special note of the shape of the leaden pellets when he removed them and remembered how they were mashed.

Wounds Likely to Cause Death.
"Would the wounds you have just described," the doctor was asked, "have been likely to have caused death?"

"Yes, sir."
"Have you any reason to believe the course of the bullets were deflected after having entered the body?"

"No, sir, but I could not say unless a post mortem was made and the course of the bullets followed."

"The upper one did the most damage and undoubtedly cut a large blood vessel or part of the heart?"

"But you did not answer the question, would such wounds necessarily, in your opinion, have caused the death of a human being?"

"Yes, sir."

Describes Wound of James Carlson.
The witness was then asked to describe the wound or wounds found on the body of the younger victim of the shooting, James Carlson. He found a wound on the left side of the parietal eminence and another wound slightly posterior to this on the right side.

Dr. Wood described the wounds in detail giving his reasons for believing the bullet or bullets which made the wound, entered the left side of the head and came out on the right side. He pointed out to the county coroner the position of the wound.

It was also done in the case of the description of the wounds received by Johnson.

"Would the wound you have described necessarily have caused death?"

"No, sir, I couldn't say necessarily, because that could depend on what blood vessels it happened to catch and how much damage was done to the brain."

"What caused the death of this man whose name is believed to have been James Carlson?"

"Hemorrhages and concussion of the brain caused by the wound."

The witnesses declared that he did not see or examine the third man who is in the Trinity hospital.

Dr. Threlk's Testimony.
Dr. Frank C. Threlk testified that he had first seen the three men wounded in the battle west of the city about 6 o'clock Sunday night and that all three men were first seen lying on the ground west of the N. P. railroad yards. The witness could not answer all of the questions relative to the exact spot where the men were first seen as he declared he was not familiar with the ground there.

"I looked at the men," he testified, "lying on the wet ground and it was raining so I said 'You had better get them out of here.'"

"They were about six, eight or ten feet apart."

Dr. Threlk identified the dead men as two of the men whom he had examined Sunday afternoon. The third man, he said, was unconscious and had been unconscious since that time. "All of the time," he was asked, "Yes, sir all of the time."

The Verdict.
The coroner's jury impaneled by Dr. T. L. DePuy, comprised Walter E. Bois, Carl Rohrer and James D. Gray. The formal verdict follows: "State of North Dakota, county of Stutsman, ss."

"An inquest held at Jamestown in Stutsman county state aforesaid, on the 10th day of May, A. D. 1921 before T. L. DePuy, coroner of said county upon the bodies of two persons unknown, who it seems are believed to be Fred Johnson and James Carlson, there lying dead by the jurors whose names are hereto subscribed."

"The said jurors upon their oaths do say that said Fred Johnson and James Carlson both came to their death on the 8th day of May, A. D. 1921, by wounds inflicted in and upon the bodies of the said Fred Johnson and the said James Carlson by and let fired from revolvers held and used by William Wyant and Henry Kearns and that said shot said Fred Johnson and the death of said Fred Johnson was caused by a bullet fired by William Wyant and Henry Kearns in testimony whereof said jurors have hereunto set their hands the day and year aforesaid."

Signed: Walter E. Bois, Carl Rohrer, James D. Gray, jurors and T. L. DePuy, coroner.
One of the points noted upon by the jurors is the claim that shells were found on Johnson and that several shells were out of guns claimed to belong to officers. Suit cases for two men were shipped from Billings to Jamestown in April, it was claimed. Others assert that three men shot were not on the railroad right-of-way.

THE AMERICAN LEGION

(Copy for This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service)

ONE OF LEGION'S FOUNDERS

Col. Milton Foreman's Connection Dates Back to the Original Paris Caucus.

Col. Milton J. Foreman, national executive committeeman of the Illinois department of the American Legion, is a Chicago lawyer, who for many years has been active in public and military affairs. His connection with the Legion dates back to the original Paris caucus at which time the idea of forming a Legion was conceived. At that meeting he was named chairman of the temporary executive committee.

Returning to the United States, he was elected commander of the Illinois department. In 11 months the membership in Illinois increased from 19,000 to more than 65,000, and the number of posts from 220 to 682.

While serving with the First Illinois cavalry, in 1894, Mr. Foreman acquired an active interest in military affairs. He served with that organization during the Spanish-American war and rose to the rank of captain.

After the war Mr. Foreman began the practice of law in Chicago, and became major in the First cavalry. In 1911 he was promoted to lieutenant colonel, and two years later commissioned colonel of the regiment. He was in command of that organization during the border troubles.

With the outbreak of the World war, Colonel Foreman requested the transfer of his regiment to field artillery, which was effected in June, 1917. Colonel Foreman took the regiment to France in 1917 and commanded it throughout the war. He received three citations for gallantry and was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for achievements in the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne offensives.

While not in the military service, Mr. Foreman practiced law in Chicago and took an active interest in public affairs throughout the state. In 1890 he was elected to the Chicago city council and served six consecutive terms. He was chairman of the Chicago charter convention whose work has become a model for planners of new city charters.

HIKE TO NATIONAL CAPITAL
Plan Suggested by Kansas Committee-man to Tell Lawmakers What Legion Men Need.

"Join the army and walk around the world!" Do you remember that slogan? Do you boys whose weary feet ate up the kilometers on the other side and the miles on this side so paraphrased the advertising of the recruiting service during the war. But walking won the war.

"Let's keep it up," urges W. F. Kurtz, Kansas national executive committeeman of the American Legion. "Let's walk to Washington and tell them what the Legion wants for its disabled and for its whole membership."

According to Mr. Kurtz' plan, delegates from each state department of the Legion would hike overland to the nation's capital, arranging their schedules so as to meet on the White House steps on the same day. However, he could permit representatives from the other side of the Rockies to ride the railroads across to this side.

Legion posts along the way would feed and shelter the hikers. "I'll lead the way, and outwalk anyone in the Legion," the Kansas pedestrian declares.

C. O. D.
An old dandy visited a doctor and received instructions as to what he should do. Shaking his head, he was about to leave the office, when the doctor called out:

"They think you forgot to pay me."

"Pay you for what?"

"For my advice."

"Nonsense, boss, I've complained it from all angles and decided not to take it."—American Legion Weekly.

Second Hand.
"I want two sheets of fly paper," said the lady entering the corner general store.

The none-too-brilliant clerk extracted two sheets from the window.

"Two sheets?" he said.

"How embarrassing! I've only a nickel with me."

"Aw, I suppose you can have the two for five cents," he grumbled. "They're half full of flies already."—American Legion Weekly.

KILBANE CALLS JACK AND GEORGES "FIGHTING FREAKS"

By Johnny Kilbane

Featherweight Champion of The World

The Dempsey-Carpentier fight at Jersey City on July 2 will be a battle between "fighting freaks."

But these freaks are, respectively the ruggedest and the cleverest in the world. This will make it a bout the like of which has never before been seen in a championship so.

It'll be weight and strength against speed, with science in the discard.

The fight won't be as picturesque as the heavy battles of the past. I don't mean by that it won't be an interesting fight for the fans; it will be packed with punches! To me it will be of more interest than any heavyweight belt battle of recent years.

Always Set
Every American heavy who has copied the title since the days of John L. Sullivan has "fought according to Doyle." By that I mean that his offensive tactics were those that other boxers used.

Every variety of wallop that the heavyweight sent over was from a certain position. To get set for a wallop he had to jockey himself into position.

His opponent could guess, to a large degree, what was coming in time to cover. Surprise didn't figure very strongly. Rather it was necessary to first weaken and break down the opponent's defense before the kayo wallop could be slipped over.

Correct. Both Fitzsimmons and the others who in turn won the heavyweight title were all this type of fighter, who stood in position and swapped blow for blow.

Jack Different
Then along came Jack Dempsey, with ring tactics all his own. Awkward and unscientific, but with a world of power and stamina, Dempsey was interested only in getting close enough to an opponent to land the haymaker that would chalk up another kayo.

Ring strategy went by the boards. Dempsey paid no attention to precedent. He started his punches from any and all positions, shooting them over in this way at times when his opponent least expected them. He picks a knockout in either fist and shifts it will to meet an attack.

Style Dangerous
Couple Dempsey's two-handed fighting style with his opponent's inability to dope his intentions and you've got a mighty dangerous combination. For a shift from left to right hand gives Dempsey a big advantage. Few of the classy fighters can fight both hands. A right-handed fighter is awkward for them to handle—and to hit. And Dempsey's ability to make the shift at will gives him this advantage at any time during a fight that he cares to take it.

Like K. O. Brown
Knockout Brown was a right-handed fighter, and his string of kayos testifies to what I mean.

George Chanev, whom I fought at Cedar point, and K. O. Mars, whom I met at Cincinnati, were the same kind of boxers—the most dangerous kind of opponents because, owing to their apparently awkward style, they were likely at any second to get across a blow that would wind up a fight in a hurry.

The value of Dempsey's surprise style of fighting is shown by the fact that even before he put Willard away at Toledo he had knocked out 20 men in the first round and had a dozen other knockouts to his credit.

Willard, on paper should have won the Toledo affair. But he was puzzled by Dempsey's style, just as every other boxer is puzzled in trying to dope the man who doesn't stick to the usual major like cat.

Carpentier has risen to the championship of France by freak fighting of a different nature. Trained in the European school of open fighting—infighting is practically unknown over there—Georges has developed such agility in rushing, hitting and getting away that in the ring he reminds a person of nothing more so much as a cat.

Into his opponent one second with a bullet-like one-two punch, he is crouched on the floor like a shadow the next while an adversary's swing goes harmless over him. Points pile up the points; that has been the Frenchman's method always.

Frenchman's Chance
Carpentier's chance in this fight will lie in using his flashy speed to rain blows in so fast on Dempsey that Jack won't have a chance to get set or to get his wallpapers into action. Dempsey's job will be to get the Frenchman into a corner and then make him miss a punch.

The Jersey battle will be more than a fight for the heavyweight championship.

It will be a bout to determine which is the better style of freak fighting—that which made Carpentier the champion of France or that which gave Dempsey, after a knockout tour, the world title.

FARGOANS WIN.
Quincy, Ill., May 12.—Jack Hagensick of Fargo, N. D., won his wrestling match with "Young" Demetral of Quincy last night after the 10th man had taken the first fall in 30 minutes with a toe hold. Hagensick also used the toe hold obtaining each of his falls in less than one minute. Demetral weighed 158 pounds and Hagensick 152.

BELGIAN LONES FIRST.
San Francisco, May 12.—Jack Schaeffer of San Francisco won the first block of a 4,000 point match of 18.2 billiards from Edward Foreman, Belgian champion, 400 to 49. Schaeffer ran out in 9 innings, making his high run of 163 in the fourth. Foreman's high run was 25.

JAPS WIN SECOND GAME.
Chicago, May 12.—The Waseda university, Japan, baseball team won the second game of its American tour, defeating Northwestern university, 17 to 1, while the invaders were making 14 hits, the American team was held to two safeties by the Japanese pitchers.

BASKETBALL IN LOSER.
Bloomington, Ind., May 12.—Football showed a profit of $10,000 and basketball a loss of $1,800 at Indiana university during the past season.

RECORD CROWD WILL SEE THE DEMPSEY FIGHT

Orders for Seats Indicate All Fistic Attendance Records to Be Shattered

New York, May 12.—Although the opening of the public sale of seats for the Dempsey-Carpentier championship contest in Jersey City on July 2 will not begin for several days, the advance for reservations assures a record attendance.

The gate receipts and actual numbers of spectators of the records established at the Johnson-Jedries, Johnson-Willard, Willard-Moran and Dempsey-Willard bouts are certain to be surpassed.

Official diagrams of the arena distributed today indicates that the boxing amphitheater to be built by Promoter Tex Rickard will seat more than 50,000 spectators. Orders for 100 of 500 seats are coming in from London, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The Insider Says
Babe Ruth swings a 55-ounce bat. Cobb and Speaker get along with a ounce artillery.

Connie Mack is a stickler for curfew hours on his ball club. Scott Perry, now suspended, has been advised to get a new timepiece.

John Tolin, outfielder of the Browns, gets most of his hits by place hitting.

Bruno Spalla, heavyweight champ of Italy, who has come to America in search of business, was a winner in the inter-allied boxing tourney.

It will cost $20,000 to send the American pro golf stars to England.

Memphis Pal Moore has beaten four champs, yet he never won the bantam title because it had a string attached.

George Cook, heavyweight champion of Australia, looks like Joe Beckett, but he fights like Tommy Burns once did.

Since Fred Fulton made a hit in Pittsburgh, he calls himself "One Round Fred."

New York fans are quitting the Yankees. Gotham fans don't suppose losers.

The St. Louis Browns will spend almost a month at home trying to get in tune with the other American League clubs.

Giving college ball players liberty to play summer ball would give them a fair shake with grid players who get salaries and roas.

There is no truth in the rumor that George Sisler's print shop is planning to turn out world series tickets.

Most of the ring gentry think Frank Moran's match with Carpentier will be called off after July 2.

Tex Richard is annoyed by fans who send in $50 bank notes plus war tax. The half century covers the tax.

None of the American Association players have been ordered off the field for profanity. Things aren't hot enough yet.

Talk that Donnie Bush of the Tigers has slowed up doesn't jibe with his base-stealing record so far. Bush is leading both leagues on the paths.

The slogan in the National League is "Watch Alexander." Grover, The Great, seems greater than ever this spring.

Henry Boynton, Williams College gridiron star, is also a diamond luminary.

Any 10-year-old boy can tell you what to do when your business interferes with baseball.

Bismarck High School to Be Represented in Track and Field Contests

Five Bismarck high school athletes were to leave this afternoon for Fargo to participate in the state high school track and field meet at the Agricultural College Friday afternoon and Saturday.

More than $100 was raised by the high school students in a "tag day" yesterday to provide funds to pay the expenses of the five athletes, who were picked to represent the high school during the school tryouts here.

The athletes who are entered in the Fargo meet are:

Cyril Grace—100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, low hurdles, and probably high jump.

Bruce Wallace—120-yard high hurdles, 1-2 mile high jump, pole vault.

Charles Moses—100-yard dash, 220-yard high hurdles, broad jump.

Emanuel Brown—1-mile run, half-mile run, 120-yard high hurdles.

Torrence Kalloran—Quarter-mile, half-mile, high jump.

The first heats in the various events will be held Friday afternoon, the semi-finals Saturday morning and the finals Saturday afternoon. Representatives of 10 high school students will participate.

FRESHMEN GET CHANCE.
Lincoln, Neb., May 12.—The Cornhuskers football team this fall will be plugged with freshmen. Five of the old "letter" men have been lost. Coach Fred Dawson is holding spring practice.

RUSIE MAKES COMEBACK.
Seattle, May 12.—Amos Rusie, king of baseball pitchers 25 years ago, holds a municipal job here with an income around $7,000. Rusie tumbled from a great pitcher into a ditch digger's job and fought his way back.

TRIBUNE WANTS—FOR RESULTS

MITCHELL GOES OVER TO COURT FOR JURY TRIAL

Charged with Assault Upon Edward G. Patterson with Weapon

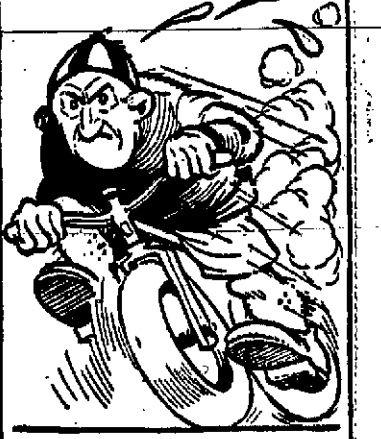

R. P. Mitchell, former steward at the McKenzie hotel was bound over to await trial in district court late yesterday afternoon, on a charge of assaulting Edw. G. Patterson with a dangerous weapon, following a preliminary hearing before Justice Geo. Dolan.

States Attorney F. E. McCurdy appeared for the state. He introduced the following witnesses: Mr. and Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Frank Hubbard, Miss Minnie Hutchinson, Clara Olson, Arthur Ferguson, Francis Feldman, and John Burton. Mr. Patterson told his story of the affair including the charge that Mitchell struck him on the back of the head with a pastry iron.

Theo. Koffell appeared as Mitchell's attorney. He introduced no witnesses.

Mr. Koffell said it was the contention of the defense that conceding the most serious things that the testimony of the state's witnesses testified to were true the most that was proved was that an aggravated assault was made. He declared there wasn't a single witness who proved that Mitchell struck Patterson with a pastry iron and that if he had Patterson would have been killed.

SPORT PRIMER

SIX-DAY BIKE RACE
OH SEE THE MAN. WHAT IS HE DOING? HE IS A RACER IN A BIKE RACE. IS IT A LONG RACE? YES HE RACES CONTINUALLY FOR SIX DAYS AND SIX NIGHTS. IS THIS NOT HARD WORK? YES IT IS EXTREMELY HARD WORK. IF HIS BOSS ASKED HIM TO WORK THAT LONG WITHOUT SLEEP HE WOULD TURN IN TO A BOL-SHE-VIK RIGHT A-WAY.

Justice Dolan fixed Mitchell's bond at $1,500. Another charge is pending against Mitchell, made by Mrs. Hubbard, who alleges he kicked her.
